Press Release:

Nyalic New Zealand Ltd a Dunedin based coatings company who are world wide marine distributors for USA manufactured Nyalic® clear polymer resin products are pleased to announce that Stabi-Craft Boats of Invercargill will offer Nyalic® as an option on the whole range of their vessels.

Mr Paul Adams Managing Director of Stabi-Craft confirms that with increasing production from their brand new facilities in Invercargill with capacity to manufacture over 1000 vessels per year, and with increasing export orders to USA Canada and Australia, Nyalic as a clear coating provides long term corrosion protection for bare aluminium parts of the vessels including transhipping protection during export.

Nyalic® is a market leader in clear coat protection of marine aluminium with Nyalic being used on vessels operated by Navy, Customs, Boarder Protection and Police in many countries. Stabicraft are thus in good company.

The Nyalic® protection with an extensive back up network of Nyalic® applicators and wide distribution ensures on-going service for any vessels coated world wide.
